GOOD ROADS

WORKING FOR BETTER ROADS
Movement Everywhere Growing Apace as Necessity for Improvement Becomes More Apparent.

(By HOWARD H. GROSS)
The movement for good roads is everywhere growing apace. The agitation for better highways is reaching every nook and corner of the land. The necessity for this improvement becomes more and more apparent as we progress along our various lines of activity. A very little investigation will convince anyone that more than one-half the money that is raised for good roads is absolutely wasted by unskilled work, inefficient and costly supervision and by doing the wrong in stead of the right thing, or doing what is done at the wrong time of the year. Among the significant movements for better highways in this central west is the proposition to place the whole matter of highway improvement under a county unit—to have one man thoroughly skilled in the art of road building and maintenance, who shall be well paid and who shall give his whole time to the care of the roads in his county. In large counties he would have one or more assistants. This certainly is a business-like proposition and ought to give better results. As it is today, under the hit-and-miss proposition, those who are informed will agree that practically one-half the money raised is wasted by ill-timed and misdirected effort. Hence the logical suggestion is, first to expend wisely the money that is now being raised, to the end that we will have something to show for the expenditure, and second, that the highways shall show an improvement from year to year.

One of the Picturesque Highways of Colorado, Between Colorado Springs and Canon City.

the very time when the farmer is busiest; that is, during the planting season in the spring, which is the only time to build roads, for then the road has the entire summer to compact and solidify and get ready for the trying time of the winter. If a road is graded in the early spring, properly crowned and good drainage provided, the entire embankment will be dried out before fall and the summer rains falling on it will wet only the top inch or so and be quickly carried off, and when the frost comes there will be very little moisture to freeze, for let us remember that the ground does not freeze, but the moisture in the ground. If the moisture there is at a minimum the road will pass through the winter and open up in the spring without being cut up very deeply, particularly if it is dragged frequently after a rain, so as to keep out the little ruts that will hold the water and permit it to soak down and loosen up the ground immediately beneath. Keep water off the road and the trouble will be reduced to a minimum.

Hence it would seem like a sensible business proposition, and one that would make for efficiency, to have some one in charge of the roads of the county who has nothing else to do and who knows what to do and when it ought to be done.

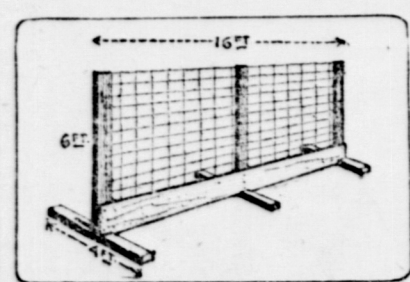

Legislation is pending in several states to simplify and cheapen road administration and put it in skilled hands. This seems to be the first step in the direction of improvement. It goes without saying that the old plan of working out the road tax, in which annual planks, with horse racing, boxing, wrestling, jumping, story telling and other stunts are the principal features, should be abolished, and that all road taxes should be paid in cash and expended under skilled supervision. That is the only way we can get one dollar's worth of road for the dollar expended. We are now getting less than fifty cents' worth of road for the dollar collected.

FARM POULTRY

POULTRY FENCE IS PORTABLE
Problem of Keeping Fowls on Same Soil for Years and Maintaining Sweetness Is Solved.

I built a fence last summer that has proved very successful. It has long been a problem how to keep our fowls year after year on the same soil and yet have it fresh and sweet. We planted different crops in our yard after we were through with the breeding season. This we found very beneficial, but as the yards had to be dug up by hand it required much labor if there were many of them. I found the solution by using portable fences, writes A. E. Van Natta of Indiana in the Farm and Home.

Portable Poultry Fence.

long. Stand up three of the T's eight feet apart and place the cut board on them, letting the four pieces rest in the notches in the board; square the uprights with the edge of the board and nail. We now have one 16-foot section complete, except the wire. The 12-inch board at the bottom is sufficient to prevent the cocks from fighting. This fence is very slightly, and two men can easily shift it wherever desired. If you wish to stack it out of the way the screws can be removed from the brackets and the 4-foot bases knocked off and replaced, when setting the fence, without much trouble.

SKIM MILK GOOD FOR HENS

Caseln Largely Supplies Protein Necessary for Eggs—Also Excellent for Use in Fattening.

Skim milk is one of the very best feeds for both young chickens and laying hens. The caseln, or curdy part of the milk, largely supplies the protein necessary for laying hens, while for fattening fowls there is nothing superior to milk for making white, juicy, delicate flesh. The milk may be fed either sweet or sour and may be given as a drink or mixed with wheat bran and oatmeal or both.

Sour skim milk, or buttermilk, fed to hens confined in yard or small range keeps them in health. The acid of the milk supplies the lack of vegetable acid they would pick up in on grass pasture—the buttermilk aids digestion. Poultrymen near the wholesale city milkmen and creameries can often buy the sour milk for ten cents per gallon. At this price it is a cheap food.

POULTRY NOTES

During inclement weather fowls are better indoors than out.

If the hens are not laying the chances are that the fault is with their keeper.

In an egg of 1,000 grains, 600 belongs to the white, 300 to the yolk and 100 to the shell.

Let the children have a pen of bantams. Look up the different breeds at the fairs, and buy a pair that attracts you.

The pullet or hen which begins to lay in November will usually lay all winter if properly fed, housed and cared for.

Don't allow your chickens to have scaly legs. Clean and apply a good disinfectant, then rub in plenty of good grease.

That good layers are great eaters. A bird must have capacity to eat and digest a great amount of food if it is to lay a great number of eggs.

Cut out all small chickens and keep the largest and most vigorous ones for winter layers. The long hot summer has retarded the growth of the late ones.

FARM STOCK

SHEEP BEFORE SLAUGHTERING
Animals Should Be Given All Water They Want to Drink—Prevent Over-Heating and Excitement.

(By T. G. PATTERSON, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.)
Whenever possible it is advisable to take the sheep off feed for from twelve to twenty-four hours before slaughtering, with the exception of lambs, which will fret too much if taken from the dams and will consequently be in a feverish condition when slaughtered. As with all stock, however, sheep should be given all the water they want to drink. All ways handle the sheep quietly so that they do not become excited and over heated before killing. Special care should be taken to see that sheep are not handled by the wool. Pulling the fleece by grabbing a sheep on the back or on the side will leave discolored, bruised spots on the carcass. Kicking or pounding the animal has the same effect. Always catch a sheep by the neck, rear flank or hind leg and hold it by placing one hand in the groove of the lower jaw and the other on the neck. Besides causing bruises and discoloration of the carcass, handling by the wool is painful to the sheep. The fleeces of sheep selected for slaughter should be dry, as it is hard to obtain a clean, unsoiled carcass if the fleece is wet. After such careful preparation for slaughter the animal bleeds more thoroughly, the carcass cools out more rapidly, the entrails are easier to handle, the danger of cutting is lessened, the carcass makes a better appearance and the flesh has a better color.

METHODS OF SALTING STOCK

Practice of Placing Salt on Ground Is Antiquated—Little Box Fastened to Tree Is Best.

The practice of salting stock periodicaly on a ground is antiquated. It takes too much time if done often enough, it wastes salt and the way it is done, usually, the stock do not get enough salt.

Handy Salt Box.

to trees, but have abandoned this practice, because the salt gets out and in time usually kills the tree. Now I set a post and nail the box to this, or can sometimes set them in the rock piles of which I have several on the place, says a writer in the Southern Agriculturist. Sometimes I fasten the box to a post in the fence.

I visit the box often enough to never let it run empty while stock is in the field.

CARE OF HORSES AND MULES

Feed Mares Generously and Don't Overtax Them—Active Whiplash and Abuse Are Injurious.

Go easy with the work mares when they are suckling a young colt, hence doing double duty. This is exhaustive and depleting. Feed the mares generously and don't overtax them.

See that the hired man attends to his team properly. Remember your work horses are doing all in their power to help fill the barns with grain and forage and incidentally to make the year a profitable one to you.

A too-active whiplash, loud and abusive language, jerking the reins, ill-fitting harness, irregular feeding and watering, filthy stables, galled backs or shoulders, over-loading and over-driving soon reduce the $200 horse or mule to a $75 one.

Always let the mare cool off before she suckles her colt—otherwise a possible attack of indigestion for the youngster.

Draft Horse for Farms
The draft horse does the work on the farm the most satisfactorily and with less expense and worry; sells higher and more rapidly; costs less to get him ready for market, and it costs less time and labor to train him.

HELPS FOR LAUNDRY WORK

Not Always Need to Subject Entire Tablecloth to Strain of Washing—Other Hints.

If the tablecloth is quite clean, excepting one or two spots, slip a folded towel between the tablecloth and the padding and on the towel place an empty bowl, having the stain directly over the bowl. Pour boiling water through the stain until it fades away. Lay another towel over the wet place and iron until dry.

Washing blankets is easily and well done in this way: Pour into a tub half a pint of household ammonia; cover immediately with lukewarm water. This sends the fumes through the blanket and loosens the dirt. Stir the blanket with a stick until the dirt is in the water. Rinse in a tub of clear water, the same temperature as the first. Run lightly through a wringer and hang out to dry.

There are two enemies of linen—mildew and scorching. A slight scorch can be removed by squeezing the juice of an onion on the mark. Bad scorching needs the juice of a big onion mixed with half an ounce of good yellow soap, the same quantity of fuller's earth and half a pint of vinegar. Spread thickly, with all dry, then wash in soapwater. Mildew marks are removed by rubbing the linen well with soap, then scrape some fine chalk and rub the linen in. Lay the linen on the grass and as it dries dampen it two or three times.

HOME HINTS.

To prevent a fresh cut becoming very sore, apply turpentine.

A row of ground cloves around the sugar bucket will keep ants out. They will not cross a line of this spice on the shelf.

Make rompers, for both boys and girls, of old overalls, and save washing and worry. The little folks will enjoy such garments to play in, too.

Darn your napkins and table cloths as soon as you notice them wearing thin. They will last twice as long if mended before the threads break, and the darning will be scarcely noticeable.

If a fruit jar cover will not unscrew just turn it upside down in a pan of hot water for a few minutes. The cover can then be easily turned.

To remove the painted letters from the very useful flour sacks, rub the places thoroughly with lard and kerosene and roll up tight and leave for a couple of days. Wash in warm water, soap well, put in cold water and let come to a boil.

On the Oven Door.
An oven indicator is a clock-like arrangement that fits into the oven door. The spring expands or loosens according to the amount of heat in the oven and in turn moves the hand on its face. The face looks like that of a clock, having numbers on it which range from one to twelve, and the moment the hand moves the housewife can tell whether the oven is too hot or too cold, thus obviating the necessity of opening the oven door to obtain this information, and thereby cooling the oven. It also warns of too great heat which means a waste of coal or gas. As the indicator dictates so the drafts in a coal stove are adjusted, or the gas in a gas stove turned up or down to increase or diminish the heat as may be required.

Breakfast Apple.
There is an interesting device to make the preparation of breakfast apples easy. To begin with, there is a little circular board on which the apple is placed. Then there is a circular band of steel, with three or four cross pieces of metal, sharp on the lower edge, fastened at each end to the steel circle and bisecting each other in the middle. The big circle is placed inside the apple, which is now on the little board, and then is pushed down to the board. The cross pieces cut the apple into segments, each just the right size to pare and eat—or to eat unpared, if you have a taste for apple skin.

Favorite Cake.
One cup of sugar, scant half cup of butter creamed, three eggs. Beat in one at a time (whole), one cup of pastry flour, three tablespoons of milk, one-fourth teaspoon of baking powder. Flavor with lemon. Bake in angel cake tin in a very slow oven about three-quarters of an hour. This must be baked slowly, as there is only one-fourth of a teaspoon of baking powder in it, "which is correct."

To Clean Silver.
An old silk handkerchief wet with kerosene is fine for cleaning silver.

Spots and stains that have long darkened the silver will rapidly disappear with gentle friction and the articles will remain bright for a long time.

About New Clothes Lines.
Boil a new clothes line before using it, as it prevents the line from stretching and makes it last longer.

New props should be soaked in cold water for several hours, as this prevents them from splitting.

Quince Cream.
Take some ripe quinces, roast them, remove the cores and cut them in thin slices. Boil the quinces in a pint of cream with ginger, then strain and flavor with hot sugar.

Pork Chop with Apples.
Place the chops and slices of tart apples in a frying pan with a little hot fat, unless the pork is fat. Salt (and pepper if you like to) and fry brown both chops and apples.

The freighter "Santa Cruz" arrived last month at San Francisco with a new record for the passage by way of the Straits of Magellan. From the time the vessel left Sandy Hook till she slowed down off Los Angeles harbor, the engines were run full speed without a stop, and the distance of about 13,000 miles was made in 47 days and 4 hours. The "Santa Cruz" is an oil burner, and therefore did not need to put in at any port for fuel.

The suggestion has frequently been made that the canal excavating machinery might be used to good effect in levee work on the lower Mississippi, or that some of the machinery might be used to build the Alaska railroad, or to do general river and harbor work in the United States. Col. Goethals has recently told the Senate Commerce Committee that it would be more economical to purchase new machinery outright for the Mississippi improvements than to remove and repair the canal machinery. The only part that might be utilized would be some of the dredges, and these he thought, would be of doubtful utility. He recommended that cars, dredges, engines and all other machinery be sold to South American interests which wish to use them in railroad building.

Revival Services Close Sunday Night.

The union revival services closed at the Methodist church last Sunday night, after day and night services for two weeks. Dr. E. G. B. Mann proved a most effective preacher, and endeared himself to all our people. In his labors he had the assistance of every local minister, and the members of all churches, resulting in arousing the greatest interest ever known here, with about one hundred and twenty-five conversions. About seventy-five members were received by the various churches last Sunday, fifty-seven joining the Methodist church. There will be other additions to the churches. The united choir, under the direction of Mr. W. B. Yates, was the largest and best that has been secured, and aided greatly in the work. There has been vast and general gain along spiritual lines, and every home in town and nearby has been blessed.

The mornings of the 9th. and 10th. were the coldest for those dates known here in many years, with the mercury registering from 6 to 8 degrees below freezing, with heavy frosts, and the ground was frozen, and a skin of ice everywhere.

"Go to Sunday School" Day.

The Sunday schools of Kentucky will observe May 3 as "Go-to-Sunday-school Day." Services of a similar nature will be held in practically every Sunday school of the State on the day. Arrangements for the day are being made by the Kentucky Sunday School Association, of which C. F. Huhlein, of Louisville, is president. The purpose of the special day is to arouse greater interest in the work which is being accomplished, and it is probable that it will be observed every year. The movement is the first of its kind ever conducted by an entire State. It is estimated that there are about 4,000 Sunday schools in the State which will observe the occasion.

Burial of Mrs. Ellis H. Brown.

Mrs. Ellis H. Brown, died in Long Beach, Cal., March 31, and her body was brought here last Saturday, and carried to the home of her brother Mr. H. C. Kirkpatrick. Sunday morning it was taken to Myers chapel, where interment was made in the family lot in the cemetery there. Mr. and Mrs. Brown lived here for some years, and had a host of friends. For some time they have lived in California, with the hope of restoring the health of Mrs. Brown, who was a sufferer from tuberculosis. Mr. Brown and four children survive, and they have the deepest sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Preparations for Corn Planting.

As it is now almost time to plant corn, farmers are almost sure to get in a hurry and fail to prepare land properly. Let us be very careful. If we expect to gather a good crop, let us prepare our land well. Let us first disk the land and then plow about an inch deeper than we did last spring. We should disk first because that will give us a deep and loose seed bed by disking before you plow you will pulverize all of the land that you turn over, and made it much easier to pulverize and get in good condition for planting. Of course this is some extra work just now, but we will gain it all back before we get through cultivating our crop. And really if you have not tried disking before plowing you will be very much surprised when you get to plowing, it will be so much easier on you and your team that you will wonder why you did not think of this and do it long ago.

One of the things most needed to make a good crop of corn is to prepare your land well before you plant, and you can best do this in the above described way. Now some one will want to know why we should plow our land deeper than we did last year, and these are the reasons: First, to turn up some of the plant food which is down in the clay, which when brought to the surface will become available and be a direct fertilizer to your crops. This clay will supply you with all the potash that you will need for one or two years. Second by plowing deep you will deepen your soil, or in other words your soil will be just as deep as you plow, and besides this your land will hold more moisture when you have deep and loose seed bed, and it certainly will not wash half so bad, because you have so much more loose earth to hold the water when we have heavy rains. The land being loose will let the water go right down and not run off like it would if it had not been plowed deep.

I will write on cultivation later.

We Have Influx of Tramps.

The spring weather has brought quite an influx of tramps here the past few weeks. Those men are leaving their winter homes in the south and making way to the north. The deaf mute plea appears to be the strongest, and two unfortunates (?) of that class appeared here in one week. These two men work together in larger places, from reports made by traveling men who have seen them, but they split up to drain the smaller towns, evidently repeating when reports from the first visit indicate good picking. These fellows are as husky as anyone, but are not easily put off. They are persistent and insolent, and one man who offered pay for work, was insulted, almost. These fellows do not want work, but support, and it is estimated that one fellow picked up at least $50 here in one day's canvass. If he could not get money he would take pencils, tablets cigarettes or any old thing. It is a good thing to help the deservedly unfortunate, but there should be an ordinance passed prohibiting the soliciting of alms by strangers until they had appeared before the chief of police and convinced him that matters were straight. It would pay the business men to offer to send a telegram to some supposed relative, somewhere, and see if there were such conditions as are claimed.

A BUSINESS MAN OF MINNEAPOLIS

MR. E. M. TAYLOR, No. 250 Nicolet St., Minneapolis, Minn., puny, Columbus, Ohio.

Minneapolis is a city where they do things. Stimulated by a vigorous climate, surrounded by a fertile country, peopled by the best blood of the over crowded east, it is a city of hustlers, of great achievements conceived and wrought out.

Mr. Taylor, of Minneapolis, Minn., is one of this sort of men. A newspaper man. A political worker. An Englishman by birth. He has been in this country nineteen years. He has resided in the northwest, Winnipeg, Fargo, and for the last ten years in Minneapolis.

Mr. Taylor is a friend of Peruna, and does not conceal his friendship. He is thoroughly enthused with the belief that Peruna is a great remedy. He has a right to feel so. For several years he suffered with dyspepsia. This caused him to have very bad health.

Newspaper advertisements would never have influenced him to take Peruna. It was friends that persuaded him to try the remedy. In less than a week he needed no more persuasion. He saw that Peruna was doing him good. He is able to say in a letter to the Peruna Company.

Farmers Interest Seed Corn

Will Increase Your Yield 10 to 30 Bu. Per Acre

We care not what corn you have now, if you plant FARMERS INTEREST WHITE DENT alongside of it it will beat it 10 to 30 bushels per acre.

Farmers Interest has been bred for 18 years. Barren stalks have been eliminated, the ears grow very large and the quality is high. This variety has always won the highest honors at the great International Corn Expositions, open to the world, from the first one held in Chicago in 1907, down to and including this year, 1914.

The selection, breeding and improvement of this corn has conferred on farmers, and all the people, greater benefits than all the work of Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of California.

The least expensive and most certain way to improve a corn crop is to let others do the breeding and you buy the result at a small price per bushel. For a farmer to produce a bushel of corn like we sell him for a couple of dollars would require the work of years—worth a thousand dollars or more.

Send your name for a FREE sample and further particulars and photo reproductions of grand sweepstakes exhibits. Better write NOW. The photographs of prize winning corn are well worth seeing.

PUBLIC ROADS

EXPENSE SHOULD BE DIVIDED

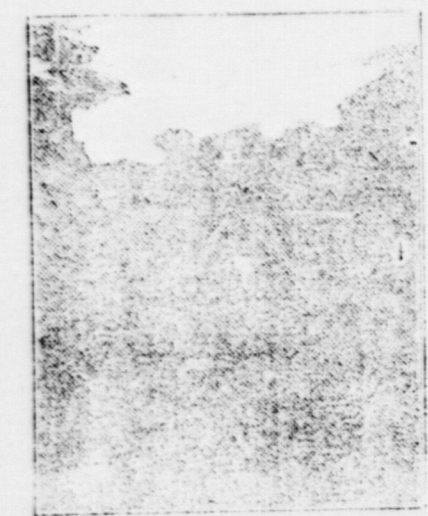

Railroads Should Share With Farmer Cost of Building and Proper Maintenance of Roads.

By HOWARD M. GROSS.

In a large sense the building of a road should be a local matter; that is, no community should have good roads forced upon them, and the building of the roads should not begin until the majority of the people living in a community want to undertake it. Let the voters of the township or the county press the button that puts the machinery in motion.

It also would be well to remember that the roads are public property and belong to everyone. The farmers ought not to pay all the taxes for building and maintaining the roads, they are the backbone of the county.

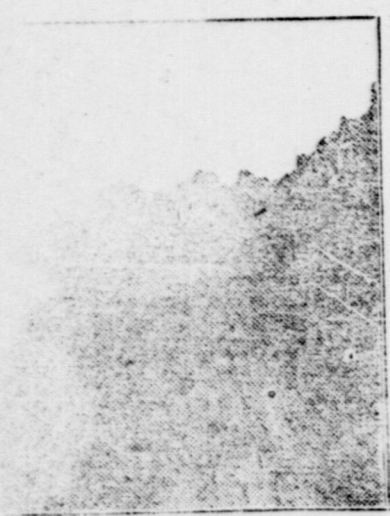

It is all dependent on the way that the highways shall be kept in condition so the delivery of freight will be expedited. There is no reason why the railroads should not be taxed to help build the county roads. The same may be said of the manufacturer and the city merchant who are doing business with the farmer; their interests are bound up in his interests. If one suffers, both suffer. The United States is a great big family, and what we need is family prosperity; these things done that make for the best road of all concerned. There is nothing that contributes more to this than good highways. They enrich country life and make the farm home more pleasant. It would be hard to conceive of a more delightful existence than to live upon a good farm with all modern conveniences—light, heating, sanitation—located upon a well-built highway, and therefore accessible to the market town at any day in the year, the trip being made speedily and with comfort.

Investigation shows that at least four-fifths of the traffic on the highways passes over about one-fourth of the road mileage; that certain roads have heavy traffic. These are the roads that need the first attention and should be permanently improved. We have one such road in our railway system. Take the truck lines. Here is a place where the trucks are moving, heavy minutes, and with an enormous traffic and wear. These roads have heavy rails, well balanced, and are perfectly maintained, while the other roads have a single track, light rails and ballast—it is the only one possible to build for the small traffic that will at first come to it, but as the traffic increases to the physical condition of the road is correspondingly improved to meet the requirements. The highways in the central west do not meet the needs of the people, but the people do not always realize this. We are too apt to get along with what we have, without looking to getting something better. One of the surprising things about this whole road movement is that one state will have a large amount of splendid roads and the adjoining state few, if any. Indiana and Illinois are notable instances of this. Nearly 40 per cent. of the "Hoosier" highways are improved and most of these are splendid roads, while in Illinois the percentage is seven or eight per cent. Can anyone imagine a region why the people of Indiana can afford good roads, while their neighbors in Illinois cannot? This is an absurd situation.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

COOKERY consists of the knowledge of the mutual influence of ingredients and the judicious management of heat.

HOT SUPPER DISHES.

For those who have supper, instead of dinner, at six, a hot dish is almost an essential on these cool autumn evenings. Soups of various kinds, if liked, are easily prepared and served, and furnish a substantial beginning to the meal.

Boiled Dinner Hash.—Chop fine the vegetables left from an old-fashioned boiled dinner—a beet or two a few pieces of turnip and carrot, a good sized quarter of cabbage and a few potatoes and some of the corned beef with which the dinner was cooked. Season with some of the broth and steam and cook in a frying pan for an hour on the back part of the stove. Serve hot with dill pickles and bread and butter.

Delicious Dish.—Take three veal kidneys and remove all fat; cut a small onion as fine as possible, shred and add a small bunch of parsley, a teaspoonful of butter to a hot frying pan and drop the kidneys into it. Cover and steam for fifteen minutes, then pour over a half cup of sour fruit juice, and serve.

Lobster in Cream Sauce.—In places where fresh lobsters are plenty, this will be a change from the usual ways of serving it. Boil the lobster in the shell, and then remove the meat and cut it in bits. Add the lobster meat to a rich white sauce, and just before serving squeeze a little lemon juice over the dish.

Sausage Omelet.—Beat five eggs until light, add a finely chopped onion, a small green one preferred; add a heaping tablespoonful of chopped smoked ham or liver sausage. Season with salt and pepper and put into a hot omelet pan.

English Tea Cakes.—Beat two eggs and add a cup of powdered sugar, beat well, add a half teaspoon of almond extract, a cup of flour and a teaspoonful of baking powder, mixed together, with a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat until smooth and then add a half cup of scalding hot milk. Bake in gem pans.

Sponge Cake.—When we consider the price of butter and the yet reasonable price of eggs, though they are soaring, a sponge cake is not an extravagant one to prepare. Five eggs, one cup of sugar, one cup of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat the whites and yolks separately, add the sugar to the whites, then the yolks and the flour. Flavor to taste and bake in an angel food pan. This makes a large cake.

Nellie Maxwell.

WAYS OF SERVING APPLES.

Apples are one of our common and usually cheap fruits. There are so many ways of using them as desserts, salads, soups and fresh, in its natural state. An old-fashioned pudding which is well liked by nearly everybody is

Baked apple sauce is delicious. Cut the apples in eighths and put them into a covered bean pot to stew. Cook for hours, well covered; add sugar and cook until well browned.

For a filling for a layer cake there is nothing more delicious than a grated apple added to an egg white and sugar beaten until stiff. Flavor with three drops of almond extract.

Stuffed baked apples are also delicious. Core good sized apples and fill the centers with raisins, sugar, bits of butter and a dash of cinnamon. Bake and baste with water during the baking.

Pretty red apples hollowed out and then used as cups for salad are most attractive. A mixture of nuts, chopped apple and celery used for filling, with any kind of salad dressing desired, may be used.

Sour apples fried with onions are good; a bit of butter add, and be sure to have the fat hot when the apples and onions are put in, or they will not brown.

For Parisian apples, peel the apples and then cut them with a potato ball cutter into small balls. Put to cook in a rich syrup flavored with lemon juice. When tender, cool and serve in sherbet glasses with the juice poured over them and a spoonful of sweetened whipped cream for a garnish.

Apples baked with rice make a most satisfying dessert, and is especially nice for the children's dessert, served with cream.

Nellie Maxwell.

TAKE TIME TO DRESS HAIR

Arrangement of the Coiffure Means Everything Where the Ensemble is Considered.

As most women know, the manner in which the hair is dressed is of vital importance in the question of producing a fashionable or unfashionable appearance. Indeed, nothing so spoils the effect of a smart gown and hat as badly arranged tresses, while on the other hand the plainest of plain frocks or a simple blouse and skirt can look perfectly up-to-date if the wearer's head be well dressed in the prevailing style of the moment.

Hairdressing is one of the items of dress in which fashion decrees change more rapidly than anything else. The curls of one month are taboo the next; the chignon of one season is replaced by plaits the season following; fringes come and go, straight or curly, and waves are large or small. But whichever it is, unfortunate woman-kind no sooner has become accustomed to one way of fixing up her locks than it must be changed and a new one instituted that may or may not suit the particular caste of countenance, according to individual luck.

Young girls have the advantage over older women in the fact that their youth makes it possible for them to wear almost any style successfully provided certain soft waves can be left around the face and the general outline that is most becoming can be continued. The older woman finds it much more difficult to change her coiffure whenever the dictates of fashion demand.

This year the style of hairdressing in vogue is fortunately likely to suit the many rather than, as is so often the case, only a lucky few, the large soft waves and rolled up twist at the back of the head being on the whole far more becoming than the severe chignon or square-cut fringe of a little while ago.

Seen recently were three charming examples that the hairdressers are using extensively. Fringes are being entirely done away with, but in their place are arranged loose waves that fall on each side of the forehead and well over the ears. In fact, for the coiffure to be entirely fashionable the ears should be hidden altogether, but this line does not suit the contours of all faces.

GAY COLORS IN THE SASH

Gorgeous Shadings Mark the New Designs That Have Been Put on the Market.

Very beautiful indeed are the wide sashes of gorgeous colored ribbon or thick-ribbed silk, with the colors woven in broad stripes, that have just made their appearance.

These are arranged to wind once round the waist, cross at the back and fasten in front, loosely knotted at one side.

The ends are finished with black braid scones and huge silk or chenille tassels in the same shadings as the ribbon.

One lovely one was of blue, cerise and black striped silk finished with long, heavy tassels in the like tints, combined with a touch of black and orange.

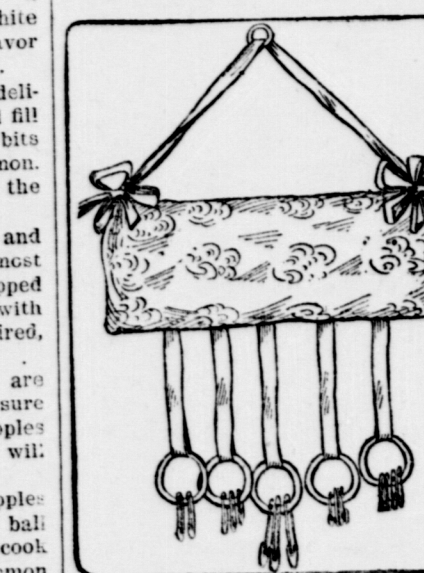

Some again have one tassel in all black, the other many colored, in every case the end of the silk being drawn into black braid or velvet miters.

These sashes make an invaluable addition to the wardrobe, as they can be hastily adjusted over a black satin or velvet frock with excellent result, just giving a final note of smartness that immediately stamps the attire as something out of the ordinary.

NOVELTY IN PIN CUSHIONS

Easy to Make From Odds and Ends of Silk or Fancy Ribbon That May Be Available.

Onto a little cushion, made from any scrap of silk or fancy ribbon, measuring 4½ inches by 2½ inches, loops of narrow satin ribbon are sewn along the lower edge, five in all. The center loop is the longest one, and measures 2½ inches. The others are graduated to the sides, the two shortest measuring 1½ inches each. Into each of these loops a bone ring is slipped before it is sewn to the cushion, and into these rings safety pins of various sizes are fastened, so that they hang down and are easily detached.

Bunches composed of small loops of the same narrow ribbon adorn the two top corners, and a ribbon with a ring upon it serves to suspend this very useful little contrivance.
